Hey Monica,

Should be another wire today for the remaining balance.

All our accounts at our new bank are now fully functioning which will allow us to now send all wires at one time as we have done in the past.

Hi Joe,

Hope all is well! We received in total of $540K yesterday. The payments have been applied to GEM Mining 1 INV42846. Let me know if they should have been applied differently. Please see below updated outstanding balances for the invoices.

Let me know if you have any questions. Could you inform when we should expect to receive the remaining balances.

Monica,

We have been in the long painful process of changing banks. Our new accounts were opened today, and we have funded them. However, I could not make the wire cut off today. I expect we will have February payment to you tomorrow. I will confirm once it goes out. Our last bank was giving us a lot of problems with the large wires for Core. The new bank is heavily involved in the BTC space and I expect we will bank to our prior pattern or timely payments.

Thanks,
Joe
